

HEAVYWEIGHTS IN WOMEN MAY ENTER FOOD SHOW FREE

Bald-Headed Men Numerous According to Last Night's Attendance.

Tonight will be a night for heavy-weight women at the National Food Show, in Convention Hall. They will be admitted free.

Last night the men had their chance at free admission. Those with ivory ball domes passed within the sacred portals without slipping a coin under the cashier's wicket. Heads sans hair must be quite in vogue in Washington, for the attendance was the largest of the show. In all there were 17,321 present.

Cutting Off Samples.

Because of the great demand for free samples at the booths, those in charge of many of them are placing more rigid restrictions on their gifts. The boy with the ravenous appetite and no pocketbook is suffering the most. Many of the dealers have come to the conclusion that putting perfectly good food down the juvenile throat is even less productive than pouring money into the proverbial rat hole. Therefore, the Cadbury Company no longer tickles the palate of the young with Coney Island.

But the crowd is not wanting. Growl-ups fight for hot "weenies" just the same as the little fellows did. The company serves more than 200 pounds of sausages each evening.

Some of those who long ago learned the philosophy of getting a free lunch with a 6-cent glass of "suds" have devised a scheme that might prove of service to the President's Economy and Efficiency Commission.

Produces the Lunch.

The scheme produces the lunch without the expenditure of the 6 cents. A biscuit is obtained at one booth, then the possessor moves to the "weenie" stand. The filler of the sandwich produced, he goes to the coffee booth, where the Java is served. But that is not all. There must be dessert, so the eater of the high-cost-of-living theory saunters to the Jello booth.

Several exhibitors have reported that a large number of their packages placed on display have been stolen. Cans of cleaning powder have been taken. Some of the exhibitors have protected themselves by placing empty jars and boxes on display. They are put up with the same style and attractive covers as the regular product, but they lack the coveted contents.

HEALER BY FAITH GETS SIX MONTHS

"Palm Crossed" With Two Dollars and a Pair of Fat Pigs—Postponement of Hooff Trial in Alexandria Asked.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., NOV. 8.

Faith without works, and the "laying on of hands," received a sad blow in the Alexandria police court today, when an apostle of this faith was sentenced to six months at hard labor on the State's roads. Not content with the simple practice of his faith, Thomas Burton, who is colored, and says he hails from Washington, permitted sordid gain to interfere, and thus came his downfall.

It all came about through the illness of the wife of John W. Young, also a member of the colored race. She had been "falling" for some time, and hearing of the wonderful cures accomplished by Burton, she caused her husband to summon him to the house. After a perfunctory examination, according to the husband's testimony, he solemnly declared the woman had been poisoned, that the house had been conjured, and unless the spell was removed at once she would surely die within three weeks.

The healer then suggested that if Young would "cross his palm" with a $5 note, this great calamity might be averted. Young offered $2, all he had, but this was not enough. Finally the bargain was closed, Young throwing in two fat pigs.

Just as Harry B. Caton, displayed the "voodoo" satchel containing various curative herbs, taken from Burton. "That's what I have for my own use. I cure my patients by faith," he replied. "Then see if you have faith enough to serve six months," answered the justice.

By pledging himself to abstain from liquor for the next three months, Robert Evans, a ship's carpenter, escaped a fine of $5 in police court today. On the other hand, should he violate this pledge, he will meet with drastic punishment at the hands of Justice Caton, who has adopted Judge De Lacey's methods in dealing with "habituals."

State Senator R. Ewell Thornton, stated this morning that his majority over Alexander J. Wedderburn, the opposing candidate at Tuesday's election, probably would be 1,200 votes.

Senator Thornton yesterday received the following telegram from Mr. Wedderburn, "Congratulations on success of sum-shoe campaign. On the strength of it I already have purchased myself a rubber raincoat."

The official announcement to the effect that a postponement of the trial of Lewis Hooff, indicted in connection with the failure of the Mercantile-Railway Building and Loan Association, which was set for November 14, had been asked, was made this morning by Samuel G. Brent, attorney for the Commonwealth.

The report was actuated by reason of the fact that the receivers for the concern had not yet completed their report and through the inability of important witnesses to be present next Tuesday. Mr. Brent stated that it was possible that the case would not come up before the first of the year.

Hearing in the suit of E. L. Sinclair against Fairfax & Co., of this city, was resumed in circuit court today. Judge B. T. Thornton, presiding. All of yesterday's session was consumed in hearing the case. This suit involves a shipment of whiskey to the Fairfax Company valued at $4,000, for which the defendants decline to pay, on the grounds that it did not come up to representations made.

A business men's luncheon and supper will be given this afternoon at the Young People's Building for the benefit of the anti-tuberculosis fund. The affair is under the auspices of the local branch of that society. The following compose the committee of arrangements: Chairman, Mrs. D. J. Howell; Mrs. C. C. Leadbeater, and Mrs. Gardner L. Boothe.

Dr. Walter A. Warfield, who has been in attendance at the Clinical Congress of Surgeons at Philadelphia, returned to this city today.

NEW LORD MAYOR OF LONDON, DOCTOR, GOES INTO OFFICE

Time-Honored Show Takes Place in Streets of British Capital.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The time-honored lord mayor's show took place today, as the new lord mayor of London, Sir Thomas Boor Crosby, was formally installed in office, succeeding Sir Thomas Vesey Strong. Immense crowds lined the streets of Cripplegate, Langbourn and other sections of the metropolis through which the procession passed. The military display was the chief feature of the procession. The territorial forces were better represented than ever before and were received with hearty demonstrations on the part of the crowds.

The Boy Scouts took part in the pageant, together with the usual contingents of the city companies, with their banners and beards and old-world paraphernalia.

The new lord mayor is a native of Lincolnshire and has passed his eightieth year. He is probably one of the oldest, if not actually the oldest, citizen who has ever filled the office of lord mayor of London. He is undoubtedly the first medical man who has been appointed, which may be considered remarkable in view of the fact that his term will be the 725d mayorship of the city.

Many years Sir Thomas has been recognized as one of London's foremost physicians. In politics he is a Conservative. As he is a widower, his daughter, Miss Crosby, is to be the lady mayor.

Rational Home Remedy For Wrinkled, Baggy Skin

(From Life and Beauty.)

Bathing the face in a simple, harmless lotion made as follows is the best thing I know of to dispense wrinkles, from the finest lines to the deepest crowfeet: Powdered axolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pt. Your nearest druggist can supply the constituents at small cost. It is a natural and rational treatment, as it tends to remove the cause of these telltale signs of advancing age. Having both astringent and tonic properties, the solution tightens the too-loose skin, vivifies and solidifies the underlying muscular tissue. This smooths out the wrinkles and gives the skin a firmer supporting foundation.

Obviously this effect must also reduce hanging cheeks, double chin, and baggy neck. The remarkably prompt action of this lotion is another commendable feature. Those to whom I have recommended this formula report most gratifying results.—Emily Conison.
